

Elective In Obstetrics & Gynaecology

Preventive Gynae Oncology Module

S. No.	Name of the Elective	Preventive Gynae Oncology Module
1	Block	2
2	Department/ Area	Obstetrics and Gynaecology
3	Name of Mentor/ Supervisor/ In charge	Dr Nidhi Gupta, Associate Professor, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, HIMSR
4	Co-Supervisor	Dr Pratibha Roy, Assistant Professor, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, HIMSR
5	Number of students intake	02-05
6	Method of Selection (if applicable)	Interview to determine a candidate's core understanding and interests in screening of gynae oncology conditions.
7	Objectives	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. The objective of this training programme is to enable trainees to obtain the core knowledge, develop the necessary skills and the personal and professional attributes to enable competency in screening in a wide range of gynaecological oncology conditions.</li> <li>2. This elective will help to produce doctors with the generic professional and subspecialty-specific capabilities needed to advise in screening modalities available to diagnose precancerous stage or early detection of cancers</li> </ol>
8	Expected outcomes	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1) A trainee will be able to elicit relevant history</li> <li>2) To perform speculum as well as vaginal examination,</li> <li>3) To be able to efficiently identification of normal &amp; abnormal cervix</li> <li>4) Able to perform primary screening test for pre invasive lesion of cervix (PAP Smear, VIA, VILLI)</li> <li>5) Able to counsel and prescribe HPV vaccination</li> <li>6) Able to interpret if the screening test comes out to be positive</li> <li>7) Able to counsel regarding self- breast examination (SBE) as well as breast examination technique</li> <li>8) Able to perform Ablation procedure if screening test comes positive</li> </ol>